PRE-RADICALIZATION

Pre-Radicalization is Largely Influenced by Internal and External Factors Unique to the Individual. There are Four Distinct Motivations:

- Jilted Believer – Internal Frustration and Dissatisfaction with the Current Belief System Leads to a Change in Belief Systems.
- Belief Reinterpretation – The Individual Alters his Belief System through Introspection and Evaluation.
- Protest Conversion – Stems from Economic, Social, or Political Deprivation that Leads to a Change of Belief Systems as a Solution to the Deprivation.
- Acceptance Seeking – Individuals with Weak Social Ties Seek the Solidarity and Sense of Belonging that Extremist Groups Provide.

IDENTIFICATION

The Individual Becomes Alienated from His Former Life, Affiliates with a Particular Extremist Cause and Accepts a Radicalized Ideology that Justifies Violence or Other Criminal Activity.

INDOCTRINATION

- The Individual Becomes Convinced that Action is Required.
- Unsure or Unfamiliar with How to Participate.
- Can be as Part of an Established Group or a “Lone Wolf.”

ACTION

The Individual Engages in a Variety of Terrorist Activities that Support his Belief System

- Participation in a Attack
- Facilitation
- Recruitment
- Financing
